

"Someone gave her a hand off the couch. I thought, She's pregnant."

TBL HOST
DAMIEN FAHEY

"They were not allowed to ask about the pregnancy," a TBL insider says of Lopez's Oct. 8 visit. "But it was pretty obvious by how she looked."

Lopez on Motherhood

"[Family] is the most important thing. Your career has to come second."

SEPTEMBER 2000

"Would it be life if you're not a mother? I don't know."

DECEMBER 2002

"I want to feel the love between a mother and a child."

JANUARY 2003

"I hope I have kids soon. I'm totally terrified of it, which makes it really kind of appealing and exciting to me."

JANUARY 2005

STARS ARE SEEING DOUBLE

sources tell Us, Lopez is having twins, she'll trend. Twin births increased 42 percent over two decades in the U.S., largely due to in vitro fertilization (which Lopez is using). The Society for Assisted Reproductive Technology says the procedure (which implants multiple eggs) ups the chance of twins to 21.7 percent for women Lopez's age.

MARCIA GAY HARDEN

"Forty is the new 100," Harden, 48 (with 3-year-old tots Jullitta and Hudson), once joked.

MARCIA CROSS

Citing a "ticking" clock, Cross, 45 (with 8-month-olds Eden and Savannah), used in vitro.

JULIA ROBERTS

"They fill me with so much joy," said Roberts, 39, of Phinnaeus and Hazel, 2.